

Center for Terrorism Law

Monthly Activity Report

April 2009

1. The Center for Terrorism Law conducted a national symposium from 30 April – 1 May 2009 in Houston, Texas, to provide information on how to develop appropriate security methods and procedures to mitigate a business’ potential legal liability in the event of acts of terrorism or crime. The symposium was entitled: Terrorism, Crime & Business: Understanding the Fundamental Legal and Security Liability Issues for American Business. See www.stmarytx.edu/ctl for additional details. The three keynote speakers were United States Congressman Mike McCaul, 10th District, Texas; Wade M. Battles, Interim Executive Director, Port of Houston; and distinguished attorney Martin D. Beirne. The topics covered included:

- An overview of the aims and objectives of the global terror threat posed by al-Qaeda-styled terror groups, sub-state terror groups, and “lone wolf” terrorists.
- An analysis of the specific threats to American business sectors that are deemed part of the nation’s “critical infrastructure,” i.e. energy, petro-chemical, electric utilities, communication, transportation, health, etc.
- An understanding of the varied legal issues associated with terrorism and criminal negligence claims against businesses that have suffered a terror attack or serious criminal act in cyberspace or the physical world.
- A comprehensive review of how to develop appropriate security methods and procedures to mitigate business’ potential legal liability.

2. The Center for Terrorism Law continues to coordinate with the American Embassy Kuwait regarding the development of a university level (for academic credit) course at the American University Kuwait on legal and policy matters related to terrorism. The tentative date for the Kuwait based event is early 2009. Dr. Rawda Awwad, a professor at the American University of Kuwait, visited the Center for Terrorism Law on 12-13 December 2008 and met with Center for Terrorism Law research fellows and the Director to develop materials on the legal issues for the course.

3. Professor Addicott attended oral arguments before the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Iraq v. Simon, et al. The case regards issues associated with the torture of American military personnel in the 1991 Gulf War. The Center previously submitted an Amicus brief to the Court in support of respondents. Center for Terrorism Law research fellows who worked on the brief were Miguel Dilley (team leader), Keith McMahon, Kris Rivenburgh, and Byron Miller.
4. The Center for Terrorism Law continues to coordinate cyber training initiatives with the Center for Infrastructure Assurance and Security (CIAS) at the University of Texas San Antonio.
5. Visiting Professor of Law, University of Texas School of Law, Robert M. Chesney delivered the Center for Terrorism Law's 2009 Distinguished Speaker address on 23 April 2009 at St. Mary's University School of Law. Professor Chesney spoke on the use of federal courts to prosecute Islamic terrorists from GITMO.
6. The Center for Terrorism Law has launched a new and improved website: www.stmarytx.edu/ctl.
